Logo Usage Guidelines

Thank you for your interest in helping to build the Unioverse! You are part of the revolution.

We have two different sets of logos that help people determine the source of the content. The regular Unioverse logo is reserved for content we release or for approved partners.

We may have different rules and guidelines for the use of the regular Unioverse logo and the Community logo. Please be sure to follow the appropriate usage rules.

If you want to become an official partner and use the Unioverse Logo, please contact us via Discord: https://discord.gg/theunioverse
